Contract changes may snag Borg-Warner land purchase

By RICH ADAMS

A number of minor changes in a lease-option agreement between the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission and Borg-Warner must be made before the chemical company may begin construction on its proposed plant at Port Bienville Industrial Park, Port Commission Executive Director Wilson Webre said Thursday.

In a recess meeting of the commission Thursday, Webre said attorneys for Borg-Warner have been in contact with him and have requested three specific changes in the lease deed and implied a number of other changes may be necessary.

Sale of the industrial park land to Borg-Warner is scheduled to be completed April 30, Webre noted.

One of the changes involves a time limit set five years ago in which the county must approve plans and specifications for harbor and docks at the park.

Borg-Warner attorneys told Weber earlier this week they want the entire section of the contract pertaining to harbor limitations taken from the lease agreement.

Webre said harbor limitation lines have been established throughout the industrial park to allow access to all canals, but explained the canal on which Borg-Warner is building is a dead end canal.

Also requested to be changed is a section of the deed which requires an engineer and architect "registered in Mississippi..." to draw all plans and specifications.

Commissioner Dave McDonald said the stipulation was made to prevent "fly-by-night" operations from setting

Waveland officials hear plans in secret meeting

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Waveland Board of Aldermen, at a recess meeting Wednesday night, authorized the advertising of bids for a $60,000 project which will run a sewer line underneath US-90 at Nicholson Avenue providing sewerage north of the highway.

In a secret, unannounced meeting, just before the scheduled meeting, the aldermen met with Engineer Walter McKay of Lewis, Eaton Partnership of Jackson.

Some two months ago McKay presented preliminary plans for a proposed $757,000 water improvement project which will provide water for two new shopping centers under construction on US-90.

When queried about the secret session Mayor John Longo said, "We had to go over all the plans for the sewer crossing with Lewis, Eaton. It would have taken too long to review these plans at our recess meeting."

Longo said the "workshop meeting" began at about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday and ended at 7:30 p.m., just before the scheduled meeting.

The Waveland mayor said he had no idea when the $60,000 project would be completed.

"We have no secrets here," Longo added.

At the public meeting, the aldermen rejected a request by Waveland resident Louis Bourgeois, appearing on behalf of Roberts Street resident Walter Diester, requesting an exemption from payment of his sewer tap fee.

Senate to eye Compretta Bills

By EDGAR PEREZ

Hancock County Representative J. P. Compretta will appear before the Senate Finance Committee Monday in support of two measures he authored which have already cleared the House. Compretta's House Bill 311 is an act to amend the homestead exemption law which allows a full-time business located within their residences. House Bill 202, also authored by the Hancock County Representative, is an amendment to the state income tax laws providing for deductions from gross income of expenses involved in weatherization of one's residence.

State Senator Martin Smith of Hancock and Pearl River Counties, is vice chairman of the Senate Finance Committee which is considering Compretta's proposals this week.

Also included in House Bill 202 are provisions for deduction from gross income of installation costs on conversion from gas or electricity to wood-burning as primary heat energy source in individual homes.

In addition, the bill includes a $25 deduction from gross income for each pint of blood donated.

"We hope that deduction will help our under-supplied blood banks around the state," Compretta explained.

"And I've received many calls from constituents asking that I support those other provisions of this bill," Compretta added.

The weatherization provision puts a $2,000 limit on the deductible expenses.

"Weatherization materials means items primarily designed to improve the efficiency of space heating and energy utilization of a dwelling," the measure states.

It includes weatherstripping and other infiltration preventative materials, ceiling and wall insulation, crawl space insulation, vapor barrier materials, timed thermostats, insulation of heating ducts and hot water pipes and water heaters in unheated spaces, storm doors and windows, double glazed windows and dehumidifiers," Compretta's bill states.

The blood donation deduction provision requires donations be made to "a nonprofit organization or a governmentally owned and operated hospital within the State of Mississippi."

House Bill 311 provides that persons operating their full-time business in their homes would be eligible for homestead exemption of up to one-half the mandated $5,000 homestead exemption which applies to regular homes, or not more than $2,500.

Compretta said Saturday he is optimistic about passage of his measures through the Senate committee and the full Senate as well.

City schools achieve top accreditation

All schools in the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District have been certified "AA," the highest rating afforded by the Mississippi Accreditation Association, according to the J. D. McCullough, superintendent of schools.

"Our secondary schools are fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools," McCullough added.

"These accreditations mean the school district meets all instructional requirements for the highest ratings we can receive," McCullough continued.

"I would like to express my appreciation to the members of our school board, administrators, faculty and staff whose dedication and support are what made this accomplishment possible in the 1979-1980 school year," the superintendent stated.

Main Street repair declared emergency

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett called a special meeting of the Council Wednesday evening to have the need for repairs to Main Street declared an emergency.

The action will result in placing an overlay of asphalt on Main Street from Second to St. Francis Streets.

Bennett appeared before the Hancock County Board of Supervisors at its emergency meeting Monday requesting assistance on Main Street and was told to have the city declare the problem an emergency because of damages caused by the recent abnormal rains.

The supervisors reported many of the county roads and bridges were affected by the excessive rains and are also in need of emergency repairs. The board passed the resolution asking Gov. William Winter to declare the county a disaster area.

The board also authorized unadvertised bids on repairs to certain roads and bridges damaged from heavy flooding.

Bennett said estimates on the cost of Main Street repairs would run from $15,000-$20,000 for the asphalt. He said the supervisors had pledged $15,000 towards the project.

The Bay is to pay for the road bed and the drainage catch basins and also raise the street manholes, in addition to expenses over the $15,000 for asphalt.

Council President Pete Benvenuti voted against the declaring of Main Street an emergency.

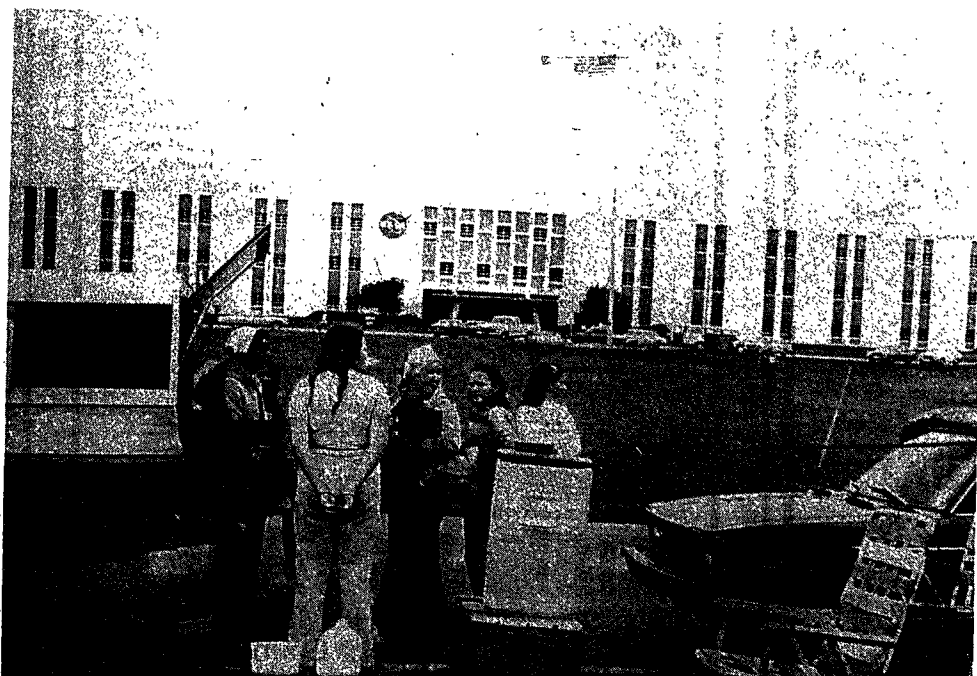

The council president commented, "I think an emergency condition is when there is something like a broken sewer line or water line. A time when there is a hazard to our community. Main Street is still passable, but I do not think it is an emergency," and then added, "I think Main Street should be repaired and I am in favor of it."

Council members Jim Thriftley, Harry Farve and Wilmer Seymour voted in favor of declaring Main Street an emergency with Benvenuti voting against.

Bennett had previously appeared before the supervisors about the Main Street overlay.

The supervisors told Bennett they will take action on the matter at Monday's board session.

An Earth Day Celebration today will climax a three-day jamboree at National Space Technology Laboratories in which some 525 Girl Scouts from 42 troops of Gulf Pines Council are participating.

The Bay-Waveland Girl Scout Neighborhood, led by event chairman Alice Holmes of Bay St. Louis, is hosting fellow Scouts from the council's 13 counties in southeast Mississippi.

Rand Reidrich, Hancock County forester, furnished pine seedlings to each participant. The trees are to be planted today on NSTL grounds during the Earth Day Ceremonies.

St. Clare's Junior Troop 97 under the leadership of Mrs. Crystal Burrows help distribute the seedlings.

Two flowering Bradford pear trees were planted in front of the NSTL Administration Building as a remembrance of the Jamboree and to celebrate Earth Day.

William Kimbrell of the Waveland Garden Center assisted Cadette Troop 27 plant the trees. Troop 27 is under the leadership of Mrs. Stella LaViolette.

Non-denominational religious services are also planned for today, headed by Rev. Jay Decker of Picayune.

Mrs. Sherry Schwabacker of Bay St. Louis led the singing at a giant campfire Friday evening.

Each girl was asked to bring some item to the Jamboree which holds some significant meaning to her, to scouting, or to the area in which she lives.

At the campfire, the girls exchanged these items, called swaps. The swaps were planned to their official Jamboree

Interest on some FmHA loans upped

Interest rates on some loans made by the Farmers Home Administration are higher as of April 14, Mark Hazard, State Director for Mississippi FmHA said today.

Interest rates for farm operating loans will go from 11 to 12.5 percent; for economic and disaster emergency loans from 13 to 14 percent; for long term real estate loans 11 to 12 percent, and from 11 to 13 percent for unsubsidized loans for home ownership, rural rental housing and rural housing site development, Hazard said.

Farmers Home interest rates will increase to 14 percent for economic and disaster emergency loans for farmers, except that actual loss disaster emergency loans will remain at 5 percent as prescribed by law.

"In addition, interest rates for the agency's program of low interest loans for 'limited resource' farmers will not be increased at this time," Hazard said.

Loans under this program made for farm production will continue at 7 percent and for farm real estate at 5 percent.

The "interest credit" feature of the home ownership program will not be affected by the interest rate changes. Families with adjusted incomes of less than $11,200 still may obtain "interest credits" which in effect lower the amount of interest they pay on home loans.

The interest rate on loans for community facilities and water and waste disposal systems remains unchanged at 5 percent.

For loans guaranteed by Farmers Home Administration interest rates will continue to be negotiated between borrower and lender, Hazard said.

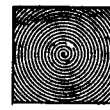

These include loans for business and industrial development, for housing for persons with above moderate incomes, and for some farm loans.

St. Monica Guild eyes Battered Women needs

Mrs. William Braun was the guest speaker when members of St. Monica Guild of Trinity Episcopal Church, Pass Christian, met Monday in the home of Mrs. Frederick Kohl.

Mrs. Braun read poems and meditations from a rare book authored by Thomas Traherne, a theologian of the 17th Century. She was introduced by Mrs.

J. Randolph Buck, program chairman. Mrs. Buck also introduced two guests, Mrs. Jean Bittenbender and Mrs. Geraldine Ceary, both of Pass Christian.

An appeal was read from the rector of the Ocean Springs Episcopal Church stressing the need for funds and assistance at the Battered Women's Shelter.

The message read in part: "The Battered Women's Shelter is in great need of assistance. There is only one shelter in Mississippi and they have been taking women in at the rate of one per day, plus their children.

"Recently, there were 54 people in the Shelter. Food is not too much of a problem as the women get food stamps. The desperate need is for money. $1,000 per month has to be found for rent, utilities, telephone, Crisis Line, etc.

"They get no assistance from the state, the federal government or from such charities as the United Way.

Also they need linens, sheets, towels, pillows and volunteers who can give time and transportation."

The shelter was described as consisting of four large rooms with one bathtub and one washing machine.

"These women," the appeal continued, "are not fleeing from little family arguments, but from violence that gives them broken arms, broken ribs, concussions, etc.

Crisis Line telephone number is 435-1963, or Mrs.

Chris Poss at 875-3984 may be called for further information.

The May meeting of the group will be held in the home of Mrs. John Frith, president of the organization, on May 12 at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Frith lives at 961 East Beach in Pass Christian.

Pride and effort necessary to restore county's beauty

There are many meanings of the word PRIDE. Let's see how many could apply to or work with National Beautification Month which will be observed Saturday.

1. Pride in one's own home.
2. Pride in one's own street.
3. Pride in one's own neighborhood.
4. Pride in one's city or town.
5. Pride in one's own municipal buildings.
6. Pride in one's own city and county leaders.

All of the above can be accomplished with a team effort.

1. A street team.
2. A neighborhood team.
3. A city team.
4. A county team.

Please join one of the teams so that all residents will be winners in the fight to improve the natural beauty that abounds in our communities.

Hancock County must be ready to step forward and participate in the National Beautification effort. Please contact your Chamber of Commerce office for more information about this fine project.

T.T. (Ted) Robin

Family and friends gathered Wednesday to pay their tributes to our longtime friend Mr. Ted Robin.

The owner and operator of Globe Laundry for almost 40 years, Mr. Robin was well known throughout Bay St. Louis, Waveland and the county.

A person with a friendly smile on his face at all times, he was a friend to everyone.

His laundry and dry cleaning operation, run by he and Mrs. Robin, grew as our communities prospered, and was the largest in the area.

A person interested in his community, he worked very hard with organizations such as the Chamber of Commerce to make our area a better place to live.

A devoted Christian, Mr. Robin will be missed by his many friends in his church, Main Street United Methodist.

He lived a full life and left his mark on the community and will long be remembered.

To Mr. Robin's wife, family, and so many friends, we join you in wishing him his reward in heaven.

Today at Kiln, there will be a dedication ceremonies and open house for the new Kiln Library at 2:30 p.m.

As you all know, our library system in the county has really been making great strides in the past several years.

We are happy to see the permanent building housing the Kiln library and hope that in the near future the trailer which was used at the Kiln and will now move to Pearlinton will be replaced there with a permanent structure.

We hope all of you will take an opportunity to visit the county's newest library today.

Congratulations are in order for the Bay High Tiger Band on their successful competition in Jackson this past week.

The five superiors and one excellent show the fine leadership given by band director Glenn Page and the talented band members.

Everyone should be proud of the Tiger Pride Band's achievement.

DONATES 700 BOOKS—Boy Scouts and Explorers placing cards and pockets in some of the 700 library books they recently collected for the new Kiln Library are, from left, Explorer Lyle Peterson, 17, of the White Cypress Community; Scout Michael Keogh, 12, of Diamondhead; Explorer Todd Delsted, 18, of the White Cypress Community; and Scout Robert Davis, 12, of Diamondhead, all Hancock North Central students and members of Explorer Post 615 or Boy Scout Troop 615 sponsored by the Diamondhead Fire Department. Peterson said he organized the book project as a public service project to become an Eagle Scout. The boys collected some 700 paperbacks, placed cards and pockets in the books, and delivered them to the new library. The project took the boys about a year to complete. Health and Safety Tip

From the American Medical Association

Tetanus Is Threat To Spring Gardeners

Spring is here again after the long winter and many Americans are getting out of doors again. There are gardens and lawns that need work and outdoor chores that have accumulated during the winter.

With the return of outdoor activities comes once again the hazard of minor accidents, cuts and scratches. Most aren't serious and will heal quickly if properly cleaned and protected.

But sometimes these little scratches can be more serious. Sometimes they are the channel through which you could get tetanus. Tetanus spores lie dormant in the soil of your garden, the dirt of your garage and the dust inside your house. These spores can infect you through the tiniest wound, the American Medical Association points out.

First signs of tetanus are irritability and restlessness. Muscles become rigid, eventually causing a clenched-jaw leer that gives tetanus its nickname — lockjaw.

When symptoms appear the outlook is grim, even with the best treatment. To avoid the consequences, be sure you and your family are immunized with tetanus toxoid. A booster is needed every ten years.

If you aren't protected, in an emergency there will be no time for immunization. If you have no built-in immunity, your doctor may inject tetanus antitoxin. An emergency shot is not always effective.

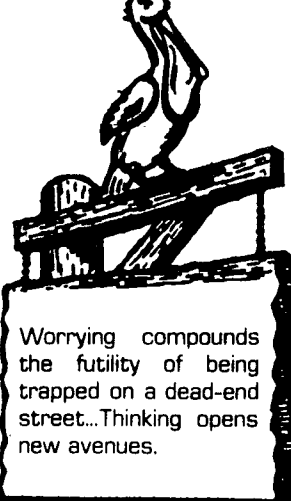

Your only long-range guarantee against tetanus is immunization with tetanus toxoid. Today most children are immunized early in life against tetanus and a number of other diseases. But if you aren't sure you are protected against this serious disease, get your shots.

Congressman THAD COCHRAN'S Washington Report

Final legislative action is expected soon to extend the emergency farm credit program, Senator Thad Cochran (R-Miss.) said Wednesday.

Senator Cochran, a member of the Agriculture Committee, said Senate and House conferees reached agreement on a compromise version of the legislation late Tuesday and floor action in both the chambers is expected soon.

Passage of the conference report by both chambers would send the bill to the President's desk for his signature.

The legislation extends and broadens the emergency farm credit program enacted by Congress in 1978, and is due to expire on May 15. The Farmers Home Administration loan program is out of money and farmers in many parts of the country are experiencing serious credit problems as the planting season unfolds.

The bill would extend the program through September 1981, and expand its lending authority from $4 billion to $8 billion, Senator Cochran, a sponsor of the legislation, pointed out.

Loans will be available to farmers who cannot get credit elsewhere from Farmers Home at cost of money to the government, currently from 10.5 to 12 percent.

The amount which can be loaned under the farm storage facility program is increased from $50,000 to $100,000, at an interest rate not to exceed 8 percent.

Senator Cochran said the emergency farm credit program is "very important for farmers in Mississippi and elsewhere who have suffered disastrous economic losses, particularly due to bad weather."

COUNCIL

News

NOW A REALITY

A concern over the future of the American enterprise system by members of Mississippi's business and professional community will soon result in the availability of a new and comprehensive source of economic education and training materials for the state's educators. And, all at no expense to the Mississippi Taxpayer.

The leadership of the Mississippi Economic Council's two new programs - the M.B. Swayze Foundation and the American Enterprise Center - has enacted a program of work which outlines activities for 1980 to begin the task of telling the story of the primary source of our freedom - our economic system.

These activities are scheduled for 1980:

- Plan and direct a program of in-service training in economic education for elementary and secondary teachers;
- Prepare a catalog of available economic education materials for the state's teachers; and
- Begin building a library of free enterprise materials within MEC.

The Foundation and Center - both years in the creation - have been painstakingly organized by concerned Mississippians and are being funded through private means.

Now it is up to the school administrator and/or the professional educator to take advantage of this resource and help pass on to future generations of Mississippians an understanding and appreciation of the American enterprise system.

Chlorine gas mishap injures 18 at DuPont

An Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) inspector visited the Du Pont titanium dioxide plant at DeLisle Thursday to determine whether Wednesday night's chlorine gas leak, which sent 18 men to the hospital, involved any violation of OSHA regulations.

One worker remains in Gulfport Memorial Hospital Friday where he was listed in good condition. Eight men were treated and released Wednesday night, four were discharged from the hospital Thursday morning, and three were released Friday morning, according to a hospital spokesman.

Only one of the 18 injured was a DuPont employee, Ronald Watson, 30, of Gulfport, who drove the other injured men to the hospital Wednesday night, received treatment, and was released immediately, according to Gordon Howell, plant manager.

The other 17 men were employed by Brown and Root contractors of Houston, Texas, which is doing ongoing construction work at the site. All 18 men were given treatment at Du Pont before being taken to Gulfport Memorial.

A. deJean King Sr., director of the OSHA area office in Jackson, said the inspector was dispatched from Gulfport to the site Thursday, which is common procedure after an accident "of this magnitude."

"When 18 people are involved and need hospitalization, yes, that's a very serious incident," King said.

The inspector's report is not expected to be finished for at least another week, said King.

The chlorine release began about 10:45 p.m. Wednesday during a routine maintenance procedure and lasted about two minutes, said assistant plant manager Larry Kniffen.

"A process line which was believed to be clean was opened and released a small amount of chlorine into the atmosphere," said Kniffen. "During maintenance, raw material lines are opened for inspection, and earlier, the other end of this system had been opened with no exposure."

Kniffen said Du Pont officials also are looking into the cause of the release and whether the presence of chlorine could have been detected in the line before it was opened.

The gas leak was confined to a small area, with people 100 feet away unaware that anything had happened, said Kniffen.

You could have been, as people were, within 50 to 100 feet and you would not have been exposed," he said. "You would not have known that something was going on except by visual observation."

Plant manager Gordon Howell said the release had no impact on surrounding communities or the environment and did not affect plant operations.

"During maintenance we open these lines for inspection and repair. Earlier in the day the other end of this same system was opened for work with no incident or exposure, so this leaves us a mystery which is now under investigation," Howell said.

The injured include:

Jerry Brady of Bay St. Louis; Mark Jenkins of Pass Christian; Tom Roberts of Long Beach; Roger Puckett and Robert Higdon, both of Gulfport; Hue Snowden Jr. of Gulfport; son of Harrison County Supervisor Hue B. Snowden; Francis Shippey of Pass Christian; James Funderburk of Gulfport; Randall Wells of Piquette; Tommy Watkins of Piquette; Garland Lewis of Carriere; Herb Penton of Carriere; George Hoprich of Escatawpa; Larry Nicaise of Pass Christian; Charles James of Piquette; and Richard Ellis of Gulfport.

Chlorine can be fatal if enough is inhaled, but it is primarily a respiratory irritant that causes coughing, tearing of the eyes and difficulties in breathing, according to The Chlorine Institute of New York. The institute said the symptoms are reversible.

James Harper, a spokesman for Brown & Root, said Friday he knows of no planned action by the company against Du Pont in connection with the accident and added he does not expect any legal steps to be taken by his employer.

Howell said the accident is not a court matter. It's internal with the company, and it will stay that way," adding, "We want to interview all the men involved as soon as they are well enough to talk."

The DeLisle site just recently received an award from the DuPont board of directors for its safety record in its two years of operation.

Bourgeois said, "He (Diester) has improved that old place since he bought it and Herman (Alderman Yarbrough) knows he's come a long way with that old house."

Longo replied, "This board hasn't made one exception for these tap fees." Alderman Jack Toomey said, "Rather than put full responsibility on the mayor, I'd like to say I believe we (the board of aldermen) haven't granted any exemptions from the tap fees."

Alderman Louis Smolenski stated, "I don't think this guy should be given a tap fee. In all my heart I couldn't do it." Alderman Barbara Rappold reported, "We had somebody put down a pipe to a sewer line and we still had to ask them to pay a tap fee."

Bourgeois asked the aldermen to go on record as rejecting his request.

Longo added, "I'm proud of the board abiding by the law."

In another matter, Rappold read a letter from Robert W. Moseley, Mississippi State Highway Department assistant traffic control and safety engineer, reporting that the highway department will construct a left turn bay for westbound traffic on US-90 at the entrance of Idlewood Subdivision.

"We are requesting our district office in Hattiesburg to program this work and construct the left turn bay as soon as their schedule will permit," Moseley's letter stated.

The state highway engineer stated the scheduled tying down of the traffic light signal heads at Waveland Avenue and US-90 intersection has been delayed due to emergency storm damage repairs underway in the Gulfport area.

Moseley also reported, "The missing backplates (on the Waveland Avenue and US-90 intersection traffic signals) were installed on April 11 which will increase the visibility of the signal indications."

In other business, the aldermen:

—Approved the March docket for payment;

—Approved a $1,520 payment to Covington, Inc., of Gulfport, for a live water tap at the corner of Merritt Street and Jeff Davis Avenue;

—Approved three adjustments to homestead exemptions. Rappold said three people did not qualify for the exemptions, but would not release the names of the individuals involved to the press;

—Authorized participation in the April 26 'Keep American Beautiful Day' as requested in a letter from the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce;

—Authorized the purchase of a $25 advertisement for St. Clare's Catholic Church fair booklet;

—Appointed Pat Shiyuu superintendent of the city's sewage treatment facility;

—Received a $870 check from Hancock Community Cable Co.;

—Received a letter from Steve Wheat requesting internship employment as city planner;

—Heard a report from Longo that ribbon cutting ceremonies for the new Wavepool at Buccaneer State Park will be May 10 and May 3 the pool will be opened for senior citizens;

—Heard a report from Longo that all city workers will attend a meeting to discuss a hospitalization and group life insurance plan with a Metropolitan Life Insurance representative;

—Heard a report from Longo that the proposed new gift shop next to the Waveland Hospitality Center would be completed in about one month;

—Discussed the condition of the beach road.

Borg-Warner attorneys had requested the commission also delete a paragraph in the contract pertaining to a minimum number of employees per acre at Port Blenville, citing "acts of God, labor troubles, or other causes beyond our control" as reasons for going below the four-tenths employees per acre limit.

Webre reported he told the attorneys he did not think the commission would go along with the change, and asked the Borg-Warner lawyers to change the wording to "economic causes beyond our control."

Webre said the commission could verbally agree on the changes and re-write the deed, signing the new deed and making the changes legal.

However, Commission Attorney Gerald Gex said the specific changes should be reflected in the minutes since original deed agreements were already in the minutes.

The commission considered entering a statement of intent into the minutes, agreeing to go along with minor changes requested by Borg-Warner, but after discussion decided to wait until Webre receives the rewritten contract from the company's attorneys.

Webre said he will ask the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to conduct a recess meeting April 29 to approve the new contract so the sale may be completed by April 30.

Also at Thursday's meeting, the commission declared damage incurred on Stennis International Airport from an April 12 tornado an emergency situation and authorized purchases of replacement equipment be made not to exceed $850.

According to Webre, emergency repairs have been completed on a water pump motor, meter base, wiring, and pipe. He noted the commission will probably be eligible for insurance refunds.

Also damaged in the tornado were the main administration building and hangar at the airport, the director reported.

Webre said those damages will probably also be covered by insurance. In other business, the commission again tabled discussion on a topographical survey and boundary survey of the proposed Bayou Cadet anchorage basin.

Last week Burke and Associates told the commission it would have to pay only $300 to have the $1,500 survey completed, adding the survey is necessary for its final report.

Commissioner Vic Frankiewicz, who opposed the survey since the engineers said it was needed, contended again that the survey is unnecessary.

Frankiewicz added that Burke and Associates should return some $2,100 in retainer fees it charged the county under the assumption the money would be eligible for refund from the federal government.

After a lengthy discussion, the commission tabled the issue until its next recess meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The commission then retreated into executive session to view plans for the proposed Borg-Warner plant which Webre said are confidential.

A flag raising ceremony was performed by Christ Episcopal Junior Troop 292 under the direction of Mrs. Gayle Egan.

Mrs. Ethel Schott welcomed the girls to the Jamboree and introduced the NSTL personnel and invited guests.

A special thanks was extended to Mack Herring public affairs officer for NASA; Jerry Hlasek, manager of NSTL; Terry Malone, information officer for Pan Am; Mrs. Joyce Cameron, administrative assistant to Malone; and Mrs. Eva Smith, chief of NASA's Information Services Unit.

The Gulf Pines Council was represented by Colonel Kenneth Combs, president; Mrs. Vondell Fairley, executive director; Mrs. Kitty Reid, assistant executive director; and Mrs. Jean Wood, director of field services, and advisor for Bay-Waveland Neighborhood.

NSTL personnel provided tours of the site throughout the day Saturday for the girls.

Softball and kickball tournaments were conducted during the day. Miss Franya Frankiewicz demonstrated silk screening the logo onto t-shirts. A soccer clinic was held by Teddy Holmes. Tennis, skating, hiking and bike riding were some of the activities the girls participated in during the day.

A special two hour first aid course was designed for any interested Junior Scout. Some 23 girls took advantage of this opportunity in the afternoon.

The flag was lowered by North Bay-Bay Catholic Junior Troop 122 under the leadership of Mrs. Linda Dorion.

A Mass was celebrated outdoors by Very Reverend A. Francis Theriault SVD Deaneary scouting chaplain for the area.

#7 of the Coastal Program Series

WHAT ABOUT TOMORROW?

It takes living on the coast to understand what this area is really like. But what about tomorrow?

Our resources — our water, our scenery, our history, our environment and our style of living attract residents and tourists alike. Excellent water transportation, a productive labor force, and room for growth bring industry and development to the area. But as the coast continues to grow, the coastal resources that we value face increasing pressures from development. Informed decisions, balancing development with the environment must be made to manage the future of the coast. The Mississippi Coastal Program is the state's plan for making these decisions.

How do you feel about the management of our coastal resources? Come to the Mississippi Coastal Program public hearing in your county and let us hear your ideas.

OTHERS! Do you think much about others? Or, like too many, think only of self? It has been said that people wrapped up in themselves make a very small package. Christ gave Himself that others might be saved from their sins. He died that others might live - eternally!

In His own words, Jesus said, "Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto but to minister, and to give his life as ransom for many." Matt. 20:28.

One cannot be a true follower of Jesus Christ, and at the same time live and think only for and of self. Such is not the Spirit of Christ.

As Jesus came into this world on a mission to help others, even so, has He sent us forth on a mission to help others, even so, has He sent us forth on a mission to help others.

Our mission is to tell others everywhere of the love and salvation found in Jesus Christ. It is our mission to tell others of His saving grace, and of their great need to trust Him now for the free pardon of their sins.

As children of God, let us not forget we are saved to serve! The Lord can use all His children. He cannot use their excuses.

It is not one's ability that counts so much. It is one's availability. Have you really dedicated your life to the service of the Master? That's what practical Christianity is all about!

As a follower of Christ, are you really concerned for the welfare of others? God included you in His plans. Have you included Him in yours? The earnest desire of every Christian should be to serve, and not to be served. Our Lord walked this earth as a servant. We, likewise, are called to be His servants. We serve God gave His darling Son as a suffering sacrifice for our sins. He was thinking of Others! When Jesus, the Only Begotten of the Father, agreed to take upon Himself our sins, He too, was thinking of others-you and I.

others may know Christ as their Saviour and Lord, and be privileged to enjoy the more abundant life in Him?

Are you striving to live in such a fashion that your life may point someone along the way to Christ and the house of God?

I rejoice that God did not forget me! It is my hope that in all things I might remember Him! I am glad that someone remembered me in their prayers. I am glad that God put it into the heart of someone to tell me how to be saved.

"As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household

by Norman Vincent Peale and Ruth Stafford Peale

Feels like stone inside

Q. I've tried to be a good person, to care about others. And what has it gotten me? A violent marriage with no warmth, no compassion--nothing except two little kids.

I've gone the route of keeping quiet, doing everything my husband's way. I have prayed and prayed to God until I'm blue in the face, but He hasn't changed one thing. I hate, I'm angry, I hate, hate, hate! I feel like stone inside.

My parents say it's no wonder my husband is crazy, since I'm enough to drive anyone crazy. I have run out of hope and answers. What in the world can you possibly give me to hang onto?

A. Perhaps your emphasis has been too strong on what you should get for being a good person. Being "good" for a purpose defeats itself.

Your prayer may be what is called a parenthesis prayer, meaning the real prayer is not for good results, but, rather, "Give me good things, but let me keep the hate."

God is intelligent and knows what the real prayer (your real desire) is. So give up the hate completely and then just see what great things will happen to you.

ANTIQUE FLOWER BASKETS - Inez Bouls, former owner of The Flower Shop in Colonial Plaza, Bay St. Louis, her niece, left, Susan Garcia, and her sister, right, Marcella Garcia, Mrs. Cude Rousseaux of Logtown. The baskets belonged to Rev. and Methodist Church who later allowed Logtown Methodist Church to use the baskets for special occasions. Rev. Rousseaux organized the Waveland Methodist Church by conducting services in his home, and later donated the baskets to the church. The baskets are believed to be over 100 years old, Ms. Bouls said. Dress dictated by time of the ceremony

For a very formal evening wedding the bride will select a wedding gown with a long train, long sleeves or gloves that cover the arms. Her veil will be long or very full. The shoes will match her dress and she will carry either a full bouquet or a flower-trimmed prayer book.

The groom will wear a traditional tailcoat with matching trousers, white waistcoat, white bow tie, stiff-front shirt with wing collar, black patent leather shoes, black socks. He might prefer to wear a contoured, longer jacket and soft shirt. A black top hat and white gloves are optional.

In a very formal wedding, there are four to 12 bridesmaids. Their gowns should be a pleasing blend with the style of the bride's and they will wear some type of headpieces. They also wear gloves which complement the sleeve length, matching shoes, and carry any style of bouquet.

The mothers, too, wear floor-length gowns, a small hat or veil, matching accessories, and a corsage.

IF IT'S A formal daytime wedding - The bride will wear a formal wedding gown, long or full veil, matching shoes, carry a full bouquet or flower-covered prayer book. But she may choose a gown with a short train.

The groom will wear the traditional morning suit - cutaway coat, gray striped trousers, gray waistcoat, wing collar shirt, striped ascot (or starched shirt and striped tie), black shoes and socks, gray gloves. Spats and top hat are optional. A longer shaped jacket is also correct.

Again, as for the very formal evening wedding, there are four to 12 bridesmaids. Their gowns may be less elaborate than those chosen for the evening wedding. They wear a headpiece, carry any style of bouquet, wear gloves and shoes to match their dresses.

The mothers wear floor length gowns appropriate for daytime with matching accessories and corsages.

IF IT'S A formal evening wedding - The bride wears the same attire as that which might be chosen for the very formal evening wedding with the exception of the veil and the train on her gown. Her veil will be fingertip length or shorter and her trail will be either a chapel or sweep one.

For a winter wedding, the groom will wear a dark dinner jacket with matching trousers, dress shirt, bow tie, vest, black shoes and socks. In the summer, he will don a traditional white jacket or pastel. He will wear either a cummerbund or a vest.

There will be two or six bridesmaids. Their gowns will be long and their accessories - headpieces, shoes, and flowers - will blend. Gloves are optional.

The mothers will wear long dinner gowns, small hats or veils, gloves and matching shoes. Their flowers will harmonize.

IF IT'S A formal daytime wedding - The bride will wear the same attire as for an evening wedding. However, she may choose an elaborate short dress with a bridal headpiece or short veil.

There are two to six bridesmaids. Their gowns may be either long or short, but not too elaborate. Their accessories are matching. They also carry flowers.

The mothers may wear elegant dresses or suits with matching, accessories and harmonizing corsages.

IF IT'S A semi-formal evening wedding - The bride wears either a trainless, floor-length gown or a short dress, white or pastel. Her veil is elbow length or shorter. Her accessories match her dress and her bouquet is simple.

The groom may wear a suit of any fabric, white, colored, or striped shirt, four-in-hand tie, black shoes and socks.

There is seldom more than one bridesmaid and an honor attendant in the semi-formal wedding. Their dresses should be elaborate and street length. They carry small bouquets.

The mothers wear elaborate street-length dresses harmonizing accessories.

IF IT'S AN informal wedding - The bride will wear a suit or street dress. Hat, gloves, and shoes should harmonize. She may carry a nosegay or wear a corsage.

The groom will wear either a suit or blazer, white, colored or striped shirt, black shoes and socks.

In an informal wedding, there is only a maid of honor. She wears a dress or suit similar to the bride's corsage.

The mothers wear dresses or suits similar to the honor attendant's.

Thank - you's deserve prompt attention

Etiquette sets certain guides for your thank-you notes. Traditionally, though addressed only to the wife, the husband should be mentioned in the body of the note. Make each note sincere and grateful. Notes may be brief, but must be interesting. Include, if possible, some personal reference; specifically mention the gift and how you expect to use it. And be sure to include your bridegroom's name.

Acknowledgement of a check should preferably refer to the article you purchased or plan to purchase with the money.

In the case of duplicate gifts, write each thank-you as though it were the only one received. And if you don't know what the item is, there are many ways to tactfully thank the sender without letting him know of your bewilderment.

The wedding ring

In ancient times, people believed that a vein ran directly from the third finger, left hand to the heart, which explains our custom of placing the wedding ring on that particular finger.

Tradition says that the bride and groom cut the first piece of cake together, to ensure happiness. Then they fed a small piece of cake to each other at the same time. Tradition also says that an unmarried girl who sleeps with a slice of wedding cake under her pillow will dream of her future groom.

Whether you wedding is large or small, the cake is a focal point. Add touches of doves or cupids, and top your cake with the traditional bride and groom, or even live flowers. And be sure you freeze the top layer to eat on your first anniversary.

Anniversary Traditions

THOSE WHO ARE LOOKING AHEAD EAGERLY to the years to come are always curious to know anniversary is symbolized by what.

Those who are faced with the question of what to give a couple celebrating an anniversary frequently find that a consulting list of traditional anniversary presents is an excellent way of deciding upon a gift that is both practical and beautiful.

Allen, Spiers married by groom's grandfather

MR. AND MRS. CHRISTOPHER SPIERS

Deborah Lynn Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Allen of Pass Christian, and Christopher Daniel Spiers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Spiers of Bay St. Louis, were married Saturday evening, April 5, at the home of the groom's parents.

Rev. George T. Spiers, grandfather of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Claudia Lawson, organist, presented a program of nuptial music.

Given in Marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length dotted Swiss dress fashioned with a tulip neckline trimmed in lace and a double ruffle at the hemline. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a Juliet cap and she carried a bouquet of pink and white silk roses.

Mrs. Charlene Cuevas, Pass Christian, attended her sister as matron of honor and Christie Allen, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

Herman Meier of New Orleans, grandfather of the groom, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Spiers' home.

The couple will reside in Bay St. Louis.

The wedding cake has been around almost as long as the wedding. The Romans broke their saltmealed cake over the bride's head at the end of the ceremony, and the crumbs were gathered by guests for good luck.
